Short description

• High stitching speed on all types of machines and stitching heads (web printing, saddle stitcher, inline-stitching, cross-web stitching)
• Protection of stitching head due to strong adhesive zink coating without layer of dirt
• Low friction resistance due to optimized surface structure and technical lubricating
• Failure-free processing due to consistent mechanical properties
• Good corrosion resistance due to eco-friendly coating
• High penetrating power due to restricted production tolerances

Electro-galvanised steel wire for stitching applications in the printing industry.
